

cause
of an individual to a group or subordinate to a superior or loyalty or commitment of a allegiance noun
further one's cause or to spread deliberately to ideas, facts, or allegations propaganda noun
damage an opposing cause

I'm not sure when I learned the pledge of allegiance. It just happened one day. For 12 years of my life, first thing thing in the morning, before any teaching or learning started. Every student was told to stand, face the piece of cloth at the front of the classroom and recite words they didn't know how to define. Seems strange right? If this happened in Russia or Saudi Arabia people would scream "PROPAGANDA!!" and pity the poor brainwashed students. But the pledge of allegiance isn't happening in those places. It's happening right in our country. And it is propaganda.

Why is
America
great?
cus We're told its
great
(Great propoganda)

Examples of effective us propaganda: the national anthem being sang loudly before an elementary school's basketball game, television dramas about relatable cops, musicals about historical figures/slave owners, and the us military's twitter posting memes about enlisting.
So what is us propaganda trying to convince you? That america is exceptional, a land of opportunity, a meritocracy (A system in which the talented are chosen and moved ahead on the basis of their achievement) and most importantly that the us is without fault. It says the overt racism that we're currently experiencing is new and goes against "our" values. AS IF the entire nation wasn't built by slave labor and genocide.

a weep joint

WHY DO WE
DO THE
PLEDGE OF
ALLEGANCE?

what are you gona do about it?

Liked this piece of propoganda?

weeprbweepin@gmail.com

(The deliberate killing of a large group of people, especially those of a particular ethnic group or nation.
Here I'm talking about the murder and removal of the native population of the us). Racism is america's first value. Us propaganda works to convince you that Arabic countries deserve drones, Black americans deserve death for not "obeying" police protocol, and Latinx people deserve misfortune for crossing a fake border. There are countless ways this country is guilty of spreading suffering in and outside of its borders.
This land has never been "ours" and this constitution has never protected us. We're being held captive on stolen land.
An all we do is watch the next episode. We wait for change that will never come. Go to work. Ignore any issues because suffering has become ordinary. Then we die :)

If that last part made you uncomfortable,